Silent, upon a peak in Coos

Last week's orientation for new Gould Academy students took them to the Presidential Range in New Hampshire. One group hiked up and stayed at the Randolph Mountain Club's cabin on the side of Mt. Adams. On Saturday, they climbed Mt. Adams and Mt. Madison before returning to the cabin for a second night. Gould's newest class begins its journey

Monday, Sept. 8, marked the beginning of classes at Gould Academy, with a student body of 210 representing 21 states and six countries. New students arrived last Thursday, and returning students moved back onto campus on Sunday.

After a day of orientation activities last week, 88 new students, accompanied by faculty members and senior student proctors, set out for three days of backpacking or canoeing in the White Mountains and the Richardson Lakes region. On their return, they joined Gould's returning students at an all-school assembly.

Head of School Dan Kunkle welcomed the students and went on to tell the story of Joe Simpson and Simon Yates' 1985 climb of the west face of Siula Grande, a 21,000 foot peak in a remote section of the Peruvian Andes.

Simpson and Yates made the first-ever attempt of the ice and snow-covered Siula Grande by way of its west face in what turned out to be one of the most challenging climbs in the history of mountaineering.

"My purpose in telling this story was to focus on the concept of 'reaching for the best version of ourselves,' a phrase borrowed from Ted and Nancy Sizars' 'The Students Are Watching.' Just as these two accomplished ice climbers reached for their best, first by challenging themselves with a worthy goal and then by reaching inside themselves when their situation absolutely required their best, so can our students aim high in their performances every day.

But we can all "be at our best" in other more important ways as well. In our relationships with one another we can seek the high standards of generosity, kindness, and personal honesty that climbers Simpson and Yates demonstrated toward one another high up in the Andes. This year, we want to do much more 'just get by,' we want to reach for our best collectively and individually in all that we do."

Telstar fall sports previews

Field Hockey

Telstar has the majority of players back from a young team that last year came on strong late to post a 14-3 record.

Coach Gail Wight praises the early-season accuracy of her offense's shots on goal. But, she said, they do need to be quicker on the trigger.

"We need to get the ball to the cage more quickly," she said.

Perfect that, and hit the ground running from the first tick of the game clock, and the talented group should have success in the Mountain Valley Conference, Wight said.

"There's a ton of experience out there," she said. "We have 11 or 12 returning lettermen, and we're pretty well balanced."

The lineup:

Seniors: Santana Wilson (halfback); Ashley Stambolis (fullback); Justine Carver

(midfielder); Krystle Gould (midfielder); Alanna Borst (forward) and Tanya Knox (forward);

Juniors: Megan Bailey (midfielder); Kara Jacques (fullback); Nola Wentworth (midfielder); and Stephanie Bennett (forward);

Sophomores: Lindsay Hart (forward); Jillian Kimball (midfielder); Kayla Mills (forward); Mallory Brown (forward); Heather Gionet (goalie); Sarah Swan (midfielder); Liz Rosenberg (halfback); Kelsey Dole (halfback); and Stephanie Tripp (goalie).

Goalkeeping duties for now are split equally between Gionet and Tripp.

Wight likes the chemistry between the players, which should help them elevate the level of their play.

"The team blends together well, and they have a lot of enthusiasm," said Wight. "They're very positive."

Digging to go ahead for Bethel swim pond

But more money must still be raised before project can be completed

By MICHAEL DANIELS

It's a leap of faith, but Bethel has now committed to plunging ahead with its swimming hole project.

"You builds your pond, you takes your chances," commented Don Bennett, chairman of the town Beach Committee.

The Board of Selectmen voted Monday to go ahead with the first phase of the project, despite the fact that there is not enough money on hand to complete the second phase.

And until that second phase is completed, the first phase — which includes the pond itself — will remain off-limits to swimmers.

The first phase of the project includes not only the pond but also the parking area and fencing.

The second phase adds the changing/restroom facility and the bridge over Chapman Brook, which connects the pond and parking lot.

The total cost of the project is estimated at $281,000.

Of that total, $42,700 has already been spent on preconstruction activities. Phase One is expected to cost another $155,000; and Phase Two, $83,400.

Police chief sues to recover his legal costs

By MICHAEL DANIELS

Bethel Police Chief Darren Tripp has filed notice that he intends to sue the town and Town Manager Scott Cole to recover $9,105 in legal costs associated with his 33-day administrative suspension this spring.

Tripp's Notice of Claim also states that if the legal fees are not paid within 30 days of the notice, he will seek damages of at least one quarter million dollars.

The basis of Tripp's claim is alleged defamation, libel and slander, invasion of privacy, and negligent and intentional infliction of emotional distress.

According to Tripp the circumstances that led to his suspension began on Oct. 1, 2002, when he reported a dog at large to Animal Control Officer Ozzie Hart.

Hart ultimately issued a summons to the dog's owner, but, Tripp claims, the ACO subsequently told him that the town manager had "ordered" the ACO to "make the ticket go away."

Tripp said he then spoke with Cole who "made it clear to me he wanted to have the summons dismissed."

Asked about the allegation that he tried to have the summons dropped, Cole said Tuesday: "There was much

Gift boosts community-center effort in W'stock

By ALISON ALOISIO

Woodstock has received a $20,000 donation that could make it possible for the town to keep its old fire station, and turn it into a recreation center.

A special Town Meeting is scheduled for Tuesday to vote whether to accept the gift, and to take the old station off the market.

The gift was made by Philippe Gut.

At the annual Town Meeting in March, residents voted to put the Railroad Street station up for sale for $20,000.

If it sold, the proceeds would help finance an addition to the "new" fire station, located near the Town Office.

But no formal bids were received for the building. A citizens' group expressed interest in purchasing the building, but that plan did not materialize.

The group did purchase a lot next to the station, which has a septic system and well. The plan had been to use those utilities for the station, which has neither.

Vern Maxfield, town manager, said the Woodstock Recreation Committee is now interested in using the station as a recreation and community center.

The committee had been considering long term plans

New homes are there for Andover's adoptable cats

— when the selectmen can catch them

By ALISON ALOISIO

Half of Andover's 70 adoptable cats have gone to new homes. And there's a waiting list for many of the others — all town officials have to do is catch them, said selectman Joan Carney.

The town has been trying to find homes for the felines since last week, when officials found their elderly owners could no longer care for them.

The cats were all in generally good health. The selectmen did not want to put them to sleep, and they also did not want the town to have to bear the cost of euthanization.

When word of the cats' plight got into newspapers and on television, the response was immediate.

Homes, food, cat litter and money were all offered, from as far away as Vermont and southern Maine.

Many of the cats were caught or trapped outside their house, and went to new homes. Most were young cats, around eight to 12 months old, Carney said.

She said in several cases, people came to Andover intending to take one cat, but went away with two.

A Siamese that appeared on WMTW TV prompted 16 phone calls, she said.

Only two cats were adopted by Andover residents, but many people in town have made donations toward the animals' care, said Carney.

CAMPERS WERE IN THE DARK

To the Editor:

I am writing in response to your article last week regarding the closing of Abbott's Anchorage. I am a camper at Abbott's Anchorage and thought you might like to hear the truth. In the article Bill Glad said that it did not come as any surprise to any of us that he was closing the campground, but that is not true. After he had collected from all the campers the seasonal fee in May, he went back to California. The next week a note was stapled to the bathroom telling us that this was our last season. This note was neither written by him nor was signed by him. We were never told by him that he planned to close it.

I grew up in Bryant Pond and have many great memories of Abbott's Anchorage. I have been camping there as a seasonal for 13 years, but there are many more campers that have been there many more years. We all loved and cared for the campgrounds. Some of the campers lived there all summer as their retirement home. Many grew up there and were heartbroken. In the article he simply says "Some people don't like change." If we were told at the end of last year that this was going to be our last year we could have lived with the decision, but he did not give us that option. He did not come personally to any of us to explain or to even say goodbye. I believe this man cares nothing for us or for Abbott's Anchorage.

CAMPER SEES IT DIFFERENTLY

To the Editor:

I am writing in reference to the Alison Aloisio piece of Sept. 4 concerning the closing of Abbott's Anchorage Campground. I just felt that some of the misperceptions presented in the article needed to be addressed. My family are longtime campers at the site and have found it a wonderful place to spend our vacations for decades. A wonderful and safe place to bring our children. This is not a letter about sour grapes but rather about fair treatment.

To portray Mr. Glad as a benevolent figure in this story is to simply overlook his actions and the way he has decided to deal with people. First off, he has decided to conduct his business with the campground through his caretakers, who are wonderful people and deserve recognition for what they've had to put up with. He never once contacted the campers in person or through any correspondence. At the end of each camping year there is a campers' meeting conducted, at which time there was no reference to a closing of the campground, but deposit money was collected. At the beginning of the year, there was no mention of the campground closing, but utility money was collected. Only after intense rumors from residents and campers alike were we notified by a handwritten notice taped to the latrine doors. This note declared that we had only four days to vacate the sites upon the completion of the camping season. Four days to ready campers that have been idle, in some cases, for decades. And it is my considered opinion that he would have waited even longer to notify the campers if he had not been found out. There are literally many more examples that could be described if it would do any good, but it doesn't, so we won't. I found it interesting that no campers were interviewed for this article. Though many were accessible.

To my camper brethren I say 'good luck' and we will miss you.

Francis M. O'Hara
Old Orchard Beach

(Reply: During the preparation of last week's piece the reporter did not find any campers willing to speak on the record about the closing. We thank the two letter writers for sharing their thoughts; and, as always, we encourage anyone with further information or perspective on any of The Citizen's reporting to use this page to do the same. CRAFTERS SOUGHT

To the Editor:

The Woodstock School PTA is planning our second annual Craft Fair. We are looking for any crafters that would like to rent a table. In order to keep our fees down, we are only charging $10 per table and would like a small craft item donated to our Chinese auction. We also will take any other donations from area businesses. Our craft fair is scheduled for Saturday, Oct. 25, from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. If anyone is interested in a table or donating items, please call me at 665-2211 or e-mail: missy88@mcgallink.net. We will also have a bake sale and refreshments. Thank you for your continued support.

GET INVOLVED WITH THE AMBULANCE SERVICE

To the Editor:

Have you ever considered serving your community on the ambulance service? If so, now is a great time for you to stop by the Bethel Ambulance. We are looking for people to join our members in providing topnotch care to our service area. It doesn't take much time and it helps our friends and neighbors when they need it most.

There are many ways to get involved:

Ambulance Drivers are scheduled with a medically licensed person. They assist with patient care and operate the vehicles. There is an AVOC (ambulance vehicle operations) course being planned in Bethel for this month.

First Responders are people trained to arrive at the scene and initiate care before the ambulance arrives. Early patient care is vital in cardiac and respiratory emergencies. We are especially looking for first responders in East Bethel, West Bethel, Gilead and the unorganized townships. Our goal is to reach 99 percent of our patients within seven minutes or less. We have relatively few calls in some areas. First responders are not scheduled, they respond if they are available.

EMTs are medically trained people who provide patient care on-scene as well as en route to the hospital. They also provide care at events such as Mollycoddett Day on our newly formed Bike Patrol. There are courses starting in Rumford, South Paris and Lewiston this month.

Advanced Life Support includes EMTs trained on the Intermediate and Paramedic levels. Persons licensed at this level are encouraged to contact the director.

Search and Rescue members assist wardens in finding lost persons as well as off-road rescue. Persons willing to assist with specialty equipment such as snow machines, ATVs and boats should contact Mike Bennett.

Bethel Ambulance provides continuous training for its members. They also provide updates for licensed members. There is a General Membership meeting once a month, and an annual election once a year to elect members to the Board of Directors. Although Bethel Ambulance is a "volunteer" service, members are compensated for on-call shifts as well as for time spent on a call. Further details are available at Bethel Ambulance Service. Feel free to call 824-2815 or stop by during the day.

There will be an informational meeting on Sept. 16 at 7 p.m. for interested persons.

Bethel Ambulance Service provides care to Bethel, Gilead, Batchelder's Grant, Mason Township, Riley Township, as well as portions of Albany Township and Greenwood.

Director, Bethel Ambulance Service

DISTRICT EXCHANGE UPDATE

To the Editor:

I am following up on the article on the District Exchange which appeared in The Citizen a few weeks ago highlighting the difficulties we are experiencing with items left on the porch at Ethel Bisbee and a lack of volunteers to keep the Thrift Shop open more hours. We have had several people sign up to take on regular volunteer assignments, and some inquiries about what additional help is needed to coordinate volunteers. There have also been some donations of cash to assist with the costs of phone and the dumpster as well as some useful suggestions for ways to improve the operation. I would be happy to hear from others who have suggestions, or who would like to make a volunteer commitment to a regular weekly timeslot in the Thrift Shop.

There will be a meeting of the Exchange Board and anyone interested in the future of the Thrift Shop on Tuesday, Sept. 16 at 6:30 p.m. in the Bethel Town Office meeting room. It is clear that many people value the Thrift Shop and want to see it continue. If you share that opinion, please attend the meeting and be thinking of ways that you can take an active role. Call me, 875-2116, if you cannot attend but have suggestions or can help.

And, yet one more reminder, the Thrift Shop accepts only in-season clothing in clean and wearable condition. No yard sale leftovers please. Bring donations only during hours the shop is open: Monday 2 to 4 p.m., Thursday 3:30 to 5:30 p.m., and Saturday 10 a.m. to noon. The Free Store in Mexico accepts other materials, including out-of-season clothing.

District Exchange Board Chair

A CHANCE TO SHOW OFF YOUR PIES

To the Editor:

The Bethel Area Chamber of Commerce would like to announce a new addition to the Bethel Harvest Fest, and we hope that many of our great amateur home bakers, as well as the professional pastry chefs who work in the area restaurants, will participate.

In keeping with the harvest theme, we think it would be fun to have the first annual Bethel Harvest Fest Apple Pie Contest.

There will be three categories: Pro — anyone who works in a commercial kitchen and/or bakes for a living; Traditional — amateur two-crust apple pie consisting of apples, sugar, spices, no adjuncts; Non-Traditional — amateur apple pie that does not fall in the traditional category.

One judge will be from our Chowdah Cook-off sponsor, U.S. Foodservice, and the two others will be the chamber's media guests who write for culinary publications. After the judges take their pieces from the pies, we will cut and sell the remaining slices to benefit the chamber's scholarship fund. The judging will be based on the following criteria: appearance, crust texture, filling texture, flavor and overall impression. The pies will be numbered, in their individual categories, as they arrive. Anyone interested in entering should bring their pie to the chamber's table under the tent by 11 a.m. on Saturday, Sept. 20. We will award first, second- and third-place ribbons in each category and first place in each category will receive a $50 gift certificate to the Good Food Store. The announcement of the winners will be after the Chowdah Cook-off is over, at about 2:30 p.m.

It is our hope that all the area bakers will get their favorite apple pie recipe out and participate in this great new addition to our Bethel Harvest Fest. Everyone who participates will receive recognition. For more information, please call the Bethel Area Chamber of Commerce office at 824-2282.

TAX AMNESTY INFORMATION

To the Editor:

Have people heard about the Maine Tax Amnesty Program now being offered by the state of Maine? The program gives individuals an opportunity to clear tax debts. During the program, one may file missing returns and disclose unreported tax liabilities without fear of criminal prosecution for failure to file returns and pay taxes, especially trust fund taxes such as sales tax and withholding tax. Even if someone is currently in a payment plan and/or still owes a balance, they may participate in Amnesty. The interest will be reduced and the penalty waived if the tax liability and reduced interest is paid before Nov. 30, 2003.

Who is eligible for amnesty? Any individual or business subject to Maine taxes, provided the individual or business is not currently being prosecuted for tax offenses.

What taxes are eligible? All tax liabilities or tax returns, which were required to be filed on or before Aug. 31, 2003, are eligible. All taxes administered by Maine Revenue Services are eligible, with the exception of Maine Employment Security contributions. These include individual or corporate income taxes, withholding tax, sales and use tax, motor fuel taxes, inheritance tax, estate tax and several others.

Where do I apply for Amnesty? Call toll free (866) 430-3161 to the Amnesty Center or obtain the application form and information packet online at www.maintaxamnesty.org. Fill out an amnesty application and enclose full payment of the amount due. If one has not previously filed a return for a period, they must fill out a return and submit it with the Amnesty Application and a payment. Obtain back tax forms at the same telephone number.

When is the program available? The program began Sept. 1, 2003 and ends Nov. 30, 2003. This program has the potential for saving people a lot of money in interest and penalties and peace of mind. One idea is to obtain an equity loan on a home to pay off these debts, the interest on which is generally deductible as mortgage interest when deductions are itemized on Schedule A of a tax return.

THANKS FOR THE GREAT HIKE

To the Editor:

I read about the Outdoor Appreciation Hike sponsored by the Mahoosuc Land Trust and the Bethel Outing Club in the Bethel Citizen. I want to thank you for notifying the local area readers about this opportunity. It turned out to be a wonderful hike, especially for a "Flatlander" like me.

First, the trail was beautiful. The Wright Trail, for the most part, travels right along Goose Eye Brook. The water cascading down and over the rocks lent a soothing rhythm to our steps along the trail. Our on-site naturalist, Jackie, stopped us periodically to point out various plants and trees along the trail. She identified not only the viburnum, lady slippers, white pine, spruce, hemlock, fir and painted trifolium, but she also introduced us to wintergreen, Indian cucumber, yellow root and partridgeberry. Each of us, who was willing, was offered a taste of the edible plants and/or berries. As a result of the hike, I learned more about the local woods than I had expected. It was definitely worthwhile.

I would particularly like to thank our guides, Mike Cooper and Tom DeLuca. They were quite informative about the area and extremely helpful to all the participants.

I am already looking forward to the fourth annual Outdoor Appreciation Hike. Thanks for a great time.

Rescue barn project back to voters

BETHEL —Bethel voters will be asked again in November if they are willing to spend up to $150,000 to renovate and expand the Bethel Rescue facility at the foot of Main Street. At Town Meeting in June voters split 314-314 on the project, which meant that it did not pass. Rescue Service personnel and some selectmen argued that the vote reflected in part confusion in the minds of some voters over the meaning of their votes. This time around the Rescue Service plans a more extensive public-education campaign, according to director Dustin Howe. "We learned that lesson," he told the selectmen Monday. The vote will take place at the same time as the statewide referendum on Nov. 4, which is expected to draw large numbers of voters to the polls. On the same ballot, town voters will also be asked if they wish to spend up to $8,000 to relocate the intersection of the Taylor-Smith Road with Route 26 (Bethel Citizen, Aug. 28).

Director appointed, driver needed

WOODSTOCK — Selectmen Monday appointed Ron Deegan to serve the six months remaining on the term of SAD44 director Janet Brown. Brown resigned because of family health reasons. Another resident, Peter Gartner, also expressed interest in serving on the School Board, and selectmen went into an executive session before making their decision. They said either man would have been an excellent choice for the board. Selectmen are now looking for a part-time plow truck driver for the town for this winter. They said anyone interested should contact the Town Office before Sept. 23.

Police ask for help in hit-and-run

BRIDGTON — There's is a new twist in the investigation into the hit-and-run death of a Bridgton teenager. Sixteen-year-old Jesse Wildes was found dead on Mill Hill Road in Waterford on Aug. 24. On Tuesday, police appealed to the public for help in solving the case. Police had impounded two Ford Escorts, as the possible car driven in the hit and run death. Both those cars have been ruled out as being the car that hit the teen. Police have conducted more 200 interviews about what happened along the road, but they don't have any new leads. They say when Wildes was hit, it was a glancing blow and that the car might not have significant damage, making the investigation even more difficult. "I hesitate to say we're starting over, but it is very frustrating," said Andre Paradis of the Maine State Police. "We have a lot of hours spent on this case, a lot of help from a number of detectives, a number of troopers, a lot of different people from the crime lab, the ME's office. We're spending a lot of time on this case and it is frustrating, because I hate to say we're back to square one." Police are looking for any new information that will help in the investigation. Anyone with information should call the Maine State Police at (800) 228-0857.

"Mollyockett" book signing

BETHEL — As part of this year's Harvest Fest, the Bethel Historical Society will host a book signing with the author of a new book about Mollyockett. Author Pat Stewart, a Greenwood resident and Society member. The signing will take place from 2 to 4 p.m. on Saturday, Sept. 20, in the Mason House exhibit hall on Broad Street. Mollyockett, the "Last of the Pequawkets," was born near the mouth of the Saco River around 1738 and died in Andover in 1816. Throughout her active life, she traveled the woodland trails and waterways of New England and Canada. Stewart describes the book as a fictionalized reconstruction. She relates the known facts and stories surrounding Mollyockett, fills in gaps with what might have happened and imagines relationships between Mollyockett and her friends, family and other characters, both real and invented. The book includes maps and illustrations. For more details, see the the Bethel Historical Society column, page 8.

Get winter events in the calendar

BETHEL — Organizations planning events this winter are asked to submit dates and other information to the Bethel Area Chamber of Commerce (824-2282 or info@bethelmaine.com) for listing in the Website's calendar. If submitted by Sept. 26, events will also be listed in the Bethel Citizen's Winter Guide to the Bethel region, which is distributed in the greater Boston area.

New owner's plans for Saddleback

PORTLAND — The new owner of the Saddleback ski area outside Rangeley plans to open this fall with expanded snowmaking, new groomers and lower ticket prices. The ski area, which had been on the market since 2001, was purchased by Bill Berry of Farmington, a former University of Maine geology professor, who has skied at Saddleback since the 1980s. Terms of the sale were not disclosed. Berry plans to operate the ski area in Rangeley as a family business with his son, who has run Titcomb Mountain and has worked at Sugarloaf/USA. Kitty Breen, a member of the family that owned the resort, said Berry and his son know and love the property. The ski area has had several tough years, and Breen said she hopes the Berry family can build it back up.

Man trampled by moose

COBURN GORE — A 54-year-old sporting camp manager in Coburn Gore, who was trampled by a 1,000-pound moose was expected to be released yesterday (Wednesday) from a Lewiston hospital. The man, whose name was not released, says he's lucky to be alive. The patient described his ordeal to Ron Morin, a paramedic with Sugarloaf Ambulance/Rescue. The incident took place Sunday afternoon as the man tried to free the moose from a snarl of phone line at the remote camp. Morin said the man talked to the agitated animal to try to calm it down. But as soon as it was freed from the wire, it bolted, knocking him down and crushing him underfoot. It took an hour for the victim to walk the quarter-mile to Route 27 and to the nearby border inspection station. He was flown by helicopter to the Lewiston hospital for treatment of back pain, a massive hematoma to the chest, multiple bruises, cuts on the head, and possible internal injuries.

Drowning victim had local tie

KENNEBUNKPORT — A longtime winter employee of Sunday River Ski Resort, Gerhard Ellenberg, drowned last week while swimming off Goose Rocks Beach. Ellenberg, 63, apparently left a note Thursday night saying he was going swimming and never returned, said Sgt. Steven Shisler of the Kennebunkport Police Department. His body was recovered Friday. A search began at 9:15 a.m. Friday after he did not show up to work, Shisler said. Ellenberg's car was found parked at the beach, and less than an hour into the search, an aircraft pilot spotted his floating body about 1,000 yards off the beach. The drowning is still under investigation, police said. Ellenberg had been employed at Sunday River in various capacities from 1996 through 2002. His last job was as a chef at the Jordan Grand.

From the Bethel Police Log: Kids have heavy feet

At 2:15 p.m. on Sept. 4 SAD44 received complaints from district bus drivers of three subjects driving their respective vehicles at a high rate of speed and making unsafe passes while leaving Telstar High School. The next day, the three subjects, all juveniles, reported to the Police Department. Two admitted to the acts and were issued summonses for imprudent speed. The third subject denied involvement and will be summonsed at a later date.

At 11:48 p.m. on Sept. 5 police charged a juvenile with attempting to elude an officer, driving to endanger, possession of marijuana, possession of a schedule Y drug and possession of tobacco by a minor. The charges stemmed from a high speed chase that began on Route 26 near Telstar, when the driver was seen traveling with another vehicle at speeds estimated to be in excess of 80 mph. The driver tried to elude police traveling north on the Intervale Road. The driver stopped at the intersection of the Intervale and East Bethel roads at the direction of a county deputy.

Tuesday, Sept. 2

At 4:12 p.m. police were dispatched to a business for a report of a woman having trouble breathing. The officer provided oxygen until Bethel Rescue arrived.

At 5:05 p.m. police were dispatched to the East Bethel Road for a car/bicycle accident. The cyclist received minor injuries.

Friday, Sept. 5

At 4:30 p.m. Tamera Allen, 33, was charged with cruelty to animals, failure to license a dog and failure to vaccinate a dog, in connection with a complaint she had abandoned her two dogs at her residence. The animal control officer checked the property numerous times and could not locate her staying there. The animals were found to have no food or water on more than six occasions. She was issued the summonses at her new residence.

Sunday, Sept. 7

At 12:39 a.m. police were dispatched to a fight on Main Street. When the officer tried to talk to one subject, he became violent. Stephen O'Donnell, 52, of Portland was arrested on charges of assault, disorderly conduct and failure to submit to arrest.

At 12:32 p.m. Steven Binette and Donna Corriveau were charged with simple assault stemming from an incident on Aug. 25.

This report highlights points of interest from the Bethel Police Department log. It lists all cases of adults being arrested or issued a criminal summons in the 10 days prior to the newspaper's publication, but does not include all reports of other police activity. To reach the Bethel Police Department, call 911 in emergency situations, 824-3437 in non-emergencies.

Pond

The town currently has $236,000 available for the project. (That figure includes funds appropriated at past Town Meetings, and $50,000 promised by the Chadbourne Family.)

That leaves the town about $45,000 short of what would be needed to bring the project to completion.

Bennett (who is also a selectman) said Monday he was confident the remaining funds could be raised privately.

He acknowledged that due to the length of time the swim-pond effort has taken (over four years), "there's been a certain loss of faith in the whole project."

Dutch Dresser feared: 'having to go back to the voters and asking them to bail [the pond project] out.'

The project has also been plagued by skepticism, he said, from those who predict the digging would produce only a murky—and unswimmable—"frogpond."

Successfully completing Phase One, Bennett said, would reinvigorate the effort—especially "when people see you have something viable for swimming."

Reggie Brown agreed. "At some point in time, you've got to dig that hole and see what you've got," he said.

But Dutch Dresser, chairman of the Board of Selectmen, warned that completing Phase One might actually hinder the fundraising effort.

"It's pretty clear in the realm of fundraising that once you build something, people no longer have interest in supporting it," he said. "People are eager to give to things that have yet to be constructed, but once they're built they don't see the urgency any more."

If the additional funding did not materialize, he said, the selectmen would then be in the very uncomfortable position of "having to go back to the voters and asking them to bail it out."

In the end, however, Dresser joined Bennett, Brown and Al Barth in voting to approve phase one contract with Bancroft Contracting of South Paris. (Selectman Jack Cross, a contractor who might work on the project, abstained.)

Center

to build a center on town property near the town beach, on Lakeside Drive. But Maxfield said the committee prefers the central village location to the beach site.

The citizens' group that purchased the adjacent lot, said Maxfield, is willing to lease or sell it to the committee to provide the utilities.

The donor could also play a role in that portion of the plan. In an explanation that accompanies the meeting warrant, Maxfield wrote:

"It is the hope of the giver of the gift that other donations will be given, as he will match some of those gifts. This would make the acquisition of the adjoining lot and needed repairs and renovations possible."

The overall plan is supported by selectmen, a Sports Boosters group and other citizens, Maxfield said.

"I think it's an exciting opportunity, a win-win situation," he told selectmen Tuesday.

The meeting will take place at 6:30 p.m. at the Town Office.

The warrant calls for rescinding the original March Town Meeting vote to sell the station. A vote would then follow on accepting Gut's gift.

Tripp

more to the situation than that." The Town Manager declined to comment further, other than to say: "We'll let the process work itself out."

According to Tripp's claim, he refused to quash the summons, and the dog owner ultimately pled guilty and paid a $50 fine.

Following that, Tripp said, his relationship with Cole deteriorated, a process that culminated on March 17, when he was suspended, based on an eight-page listing of issues and complaints, some going back almost two years. None of the matters referred to in the document had been raised prior to that point, Tripp claimed.

Tripp's Notice of Claim opens the door for negotiations prior to the suit itself.

Cole said the case has been referred to the town's attorney and insurance carrier.

Cats

The hunt goes on. With all the activity around the cats' home, some of the remaining animals have turned shy.

Carney speculates they watched their housemates being caught in traps, and decided they didn't want any part of that. So they've gone into hiding outside the home.

"They're not wild, they're just scared," said Carney.

So far now, Andover is taking names of people still interested in adopting, and telling them the town will keep them posted on the success of the continuing cat hunt.

Carney's own efforts in the feline rescue were interrupted by a trip to the Bethel Family Health Center. She was bitten by one captive when she tried to put him in a cage. She's now on antibiotics.

And over the course of the past week, she has learned some of the felines have a few idiosyncrasies.

For instance, she trapped two cats and placed them in a cage in her car for a ride to the Town Office. On the way, she turned on the radio.

All was quiet until a song by the Bee Gees came on. One of the cats, a tiger, "started yowling at the Bee Gees," said Carney.

"When the song ended, he stopped. When someone came to pick him up (for adoption), I told them, 'Don't play the Bee Gees.'"

(Anyone interested in adoption or in donating food, litter or money may call the Town Office at 392-3302 or send donations to PO Box 219, Andover 04216.)

Bethel

by Virginia Keniston
Ben Kellogg and Howard Donahue recently visited Bill and Ruth Kichton at Old Orchard Beach.

Happy Birthday to Studie Cross on Sept. 9.

Kath and Charles Hamlin of Longmeadow, Mass., visited several Bethel friends — the Kuzys, Kenistons, and Brown — last Wednesday.

The Bethel House supper was held on Thursday. Thanks to Kathy Bean and Ruth Silver for entertainment.

Becky Ricker and husband of Rochester, N.H., visited Jean Corriveau over the weekend.

Sisters Pat Blake of Bethel, Margo Davis of Auburn and Jeannie Samela of Waterbury, Conn., attended the Antique Fair at Sturbridge, Mass., over the weekend.

Don Ferrero of New Bedford, Mass., spent the weekend with Bud and Mary Paine.

The Philbrook house on Mechanic Street has been removed and the lot leveled by Bob Chadbourne — Big improvement.

Tim Hutchins' daughter, Kate, is painting Tim and Lynn's house a soft brown with black shutters.

Ray and Joan Cole have returned to Bethel after spending the summer at Belgrade Lakes.

Amy DesRoche of New Sharon visited Virginia Walker for coffee and muffins on Wednesday.

Jim and Ann Gosselin of Detroit, Mich., visited Virginia Walker recently.

The UMW met Thursday at the Methodist Church. Plans were made for supper the first Saturday in October; Fall Sale, Nov. 7 and 8; Christmas Tea, Dec. 20; combined choir with Methodist and Nazarene churches at the Nazarene Church on Oct. 19. Sunday School will start on Sunday at 9:30 a.m. with Linda Howe in charge of the children.

Doris Fraser and Musa

Brown drove to the Sheepscot Inn at Edgcomb early Saturday morning where they joined Richard and Nancy Fraser for a daylong, backwoods tour in Richard's 1913 Model T Ford. Along with 48 other "T's" they enjoyed a visit to the MacMillan-Peary Museum at Bowdoin College and the Joshua Chamberlain Museum in Brunswick. Following a seafood lunch on the shore in Harpswell, they continued on to Bailey Island for shopping and back to Edgcomb. Musa and Doris arrived home in Bethel (in Musa's model '92" Ford) after nearly 14 hours on the road.

Teistar won the field hockey game with Dirigo 3-0 on Monday.

Students off to college are Braden Douglass at Guilford College in Greensboro, N.C.; Loren Hart at Northeastern University in Boston; Sarah Gamble and Erin Tripp at U of Maine in Orono; John Reuter at Bates College, Lewiston; Wade Osgood and Brian Zinchuk at U. of Southern Maine; Kate Caddigan at U. of R.I.

On Sept. 5, Oxford Hills Duplicate Bridge played an eight-table club championship game. First place winners in the north-south A division were Nick Karamessinis and Jane Fournier; second, Pete Cummings and Richard Allen; third, Adele Bendes and Marcela Allaire. The east-west winners in the A division were: first, Woody Mercier and Anna Cormier; second, Eric and Marilyn Sahlberg; third, Adele McDermott and Penny Tougas. Winners in the B division were Adele and Penny first; second, Beverly Dolan and Marianne Avery; third, Beverly Pelletier and Mil Owens.

East Bethel

by Nancy Mercer
Alder River Grange will have a meeting on Sept. 12 at the hall. There will be a 6:30 p.m. potluck supper and the meeting at 7:30 p.m. There will be no oyster stew supper, as the price of oysters is so high. We would have to up the price of the supper to $6, maybe more.

The supper schedule is as follows: Sept. 27, roast beef; Oct. 18, fish chowder, Oct. 25, Harvest Supper; Nov. 8, turkey.

The East Bethel School Reunion will be held on Sept. 28 at 2 p.m. Refreshments and drinks will be served.

There is still a pair of shades at the Grange Hall left from the Aug. 16 supper.

Jack and Lucy Nordahl returned on Sept. 3 from Lobster Buoy camping area in South Thomaston. They were canoeing every day or visiting different places.

Lacey Hebert is back at U.M.F. for the school year.

Steve Goss, Christine Kimball's fiancé, returned from Georgia on Sept. 7.

Have a nice week. God Bless.

Hanover

by Clem Worcester
The Hanover Planning Board met last week

at a site on Howard Avenue to examine property they needed to discuss during their regular meeting at the town office. Following presentations by the code enforcement officer, John Gauthier, by a contractor and the landowner, the board felt there was not enough information to make a decision and the issue was tabled. The board also heard a pre-application presentation from another property owner from the Howard Pond area.

At the October meeting the board plans to view the property described at 5 p.m., as they expect the daylight hours may be decreasing. That meeting will be on Oct. 1. Fran Berry and Darren Worcester from Hooksett, N.H. were visitors of Bill and Gail Worcester over the holiday weekend. They left on Monday to go to New Gloucester before returning to Hooksett.

The Hanover Quilting Committee, under the direction of Kelly Crockett, met at the Hanover Town Office on Thursday to make plans for a Hanover Square in the 2005 Oxford County Bicentennial Quilt.

Allen Bennett from Machiasport was in the area several days last week. He attended a Mason meeting at Rumford Corner.

School buses are everywhere. They take the children to school and bring them home again. That includes Amber Souve, who went to school for the first time last Tuesday. We would like to know about any other youngsters from the area who started school for the first time this year. Please drive carefully around the school buses and the children they attract. No one needs to be hurt.

Andover

by Joan Stinson-Carney
This is not going to be my usual column this week. I want to thank all those who have come forward and helped the town of Andover with our "cat situation."

Since it first appeared in the media on Wednesday, we have been overwhelmed with offers of help. Cat food, donations of money and just about everything you can think of has been offered to us. We have already found homes for about thirty of our feline friends.

I especially want to thank Dr. Stuer, who donated 20 free rabies shots for the cats adopted by the first 20 people. Also, special thanks to Ozzie Hart, Elaine Morton, Hank Morton, Robert Morton, Sandy Conrad, Trudy Akers and Ernie Pearce for their extra, extra help. We have had wonderful caring people come from as far away as Kittery and Portland to adopt a pet. We still have a way to go, but it really makes me feel so good to see how much people care. I also want to especially thank Dr. Richard DeCarolis for taking time out of his hectic schedule on Friday to take care of my cat bite.

We will be needing more help later on, so keep us in mind.

Mel Dow is home from the hospital, visits and meals would be nice.

Dot is back in CMMC, cards would be nice.

Until next week — see 'ya.

North Newry

by Gil Seeley
The people who helped celebrate the birth-days of Paul and daughter Kylie, Ras and Heidi last week were: Paul's wife, Michelle, and Nik Josephson in Cumberland, Ras' wife, Karlene Bachelard of North Newry, Heidi's daughter, Julie Littlefield and her two daughters, Natalie and Alexis of East Winthrop, George and Claire Romano, and Sherry Bachelard of Wiscasset, Bob and Amy Romano, Ryan and Delaney, Bradley of Hudson, N.H. and "Faithful" the dog, currently staying in Cumberland. Where was the cat? Lots of good food and fun. All this happened on Labor Day.

Upton

by Eleanor LaCombe
Ah September, you are so beautiful. The fine weather brought many boaters, kayakers, and canoers back to the lake. The summer season no longer ends on Labor Day.

While going up the lake Sunday we spied a beautiful bald eagle on a bare branch on a pine tree. At the very top of the tree there was a large unkempt nest. We passed this site many times this summer and never noticed it. They have been circling this end of the lake all summer, alighting in the tall pines at Birch Point and Williamson's Point.

Although we have not had a frost yet, the flowers are gradually deteriorating. The impatiens has really popped up into beautiful blooms. By the end of the week, Jack Frost will have touched them with his icy finger. Potted chrysanthemums have replaced most of the flowers. We have to keep color as long as we can, the "white stuff" will be here soon enough.

About those gray squirrels, The "Bethel Squirrel Dumpster" is striking again in Upton. We have enough problems with the little red devils without importing their larger, hungrier cousins.

A small bear continues his raid on Birch Point. Newly planted hostas and phlox have been uprooted. Bird feeders have been emptied. It's just a cub, but Mama Bear is somewhere in the area. A large apple tree that produces bumper crops of small, sweet apples is in the center of the property. It is a favorite spot for bears in the fall and deer in the winter.

Tex Fogwill was on the "I don't feel good" list last week but is doing much better. Now that the kids are back in school the "runny nose" season has begun.

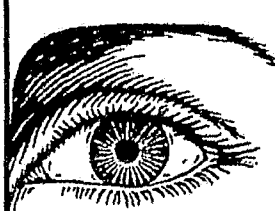

Happy Birthday to Clyde Stratton, Dan Corcoran and John McEwen of Errol.

Recently the Stanczy family held a small reunion. A large turkey was deep fried to perfection. A different style turkey dinner was enjoyed by all.

Florida Power and Light is doing their best to ruin the last few weeks of boating by bringing the lake level down. This does not affect kayaks and canoes, but the larger boats and pontoon boats are in jeopardy. The owners of these boats pay steep fees to keep them on the water.

Our sympathy to the family and friends of Bob Monroe, formerly of Upton. Bob died recently in Lewiston.

The birdfeeders are packed with all manner of small pretty creatures. Goldfinches dominate. They are at the peak of their beauty. A pair of rose-breasted nuthatches are busy gathering seed and tucking them under the shingles on the garage roof for storage. Doves, blue jays and

The Way I See It

by Sharon Bouchard

Sharon Bouchard's column is published by special arrangement with the Advertising Department of this newspaper.

There is a bit of a chill in the air as we approach fall. Summer always seems to end so soon, but autumn has some merits too. The fact that it's followed by winter isn't one of them however.

But autumn still provides us with some warmth from the sun and we are treated to the beauty of the fall foliage as the trees fade from green to red, orange and yellow.

This is also the time when we can usually enjoy a bountiful harvest of fresh produce like corn, tomatoes, potatoes, winter squash, pumpkins and my personal favorite, fresh apples.

One of the highlights of fall in my house is the fact that I am willing to once again turn on my oven, which I refused to do during the hot days of summer.

It has always been my belief that if I did any baking during the summer heat, something terrible would happen to me. So, I figured that when it came to meals and goodies if they couldn't be grilled, cooked in the microwave or on the top of the stove or eaten right out of the container, then the food had to come from a restaurant, because I would not turn the oven on.

Though we may still experience a few hot days, for the most part, cooler temperatures will prevail and I no longer have a good excuse for not preparing full hot meals and baking up a storm of pies, cookies, roasts and a full menu of other good foods.

Actually, I enjoy cooking and am anxious to put my apron back on and take my cookbooks down from their hiding place and treat Henry to some of his favorite treats.

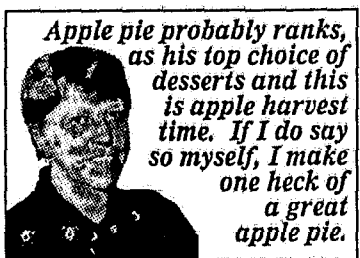

Apple pie probably ranks, as his top choice of desserts and this is apple harvest time. If I do say so myself, I make one heck of a great apple pie.

Though pies were created as far back as 5th century Greece, apple pies or any other kind of fruit or custard pie did not get discovered until the 16th century under the reign of Elizabeth I. Prior to that time pies were one tough crust pie and filled with either meat or fish. I have to say that fish pie sounds pretty disgusting. Apparently Elizabeth wasn't too excited about fish pie either and meat pie didn't rank as one of her favorite meals, according to history.

Her royal bakers, frustrated over not being able to please her royal highness' royal appetite, tried creating other culinary dishes in an effort to appease the royal pain in the butt. It was known that the queen loved pitted cherries, which grew in abundance around the palace, so one of her bakers concocted the first cherry pie. The queen was happy and all was well throughout the land.

Sometime around 1670 Americans started experimenting with huckleberries and later blueberries, apples and peaches. A top crust was added to prevent the fruit juice from spilling over and causing a fire.

Apple pie probably ranks, as his top choice of desserts and this is apple harvest time. If I do say so myself, I make one heck of a great apple pie.

Cookies pre-date Queen Elizabeth and two-crust fruit pies by quite a bit. The first record of the cookies existence goes back to third century Rome, but they were more of a tasteless cracker than a cookie.

It was a long time before the cookie evolved into a sweet chewy confection. There is evidence of cookies being baked in the United States as far back as the 1700's, but the popularity of cookies as we know them, didn't catch on until the mid-1800's.

Once Henry gets tired of apple pies I'll start baking his favorite cookies, chocolate chip. In fact, chocolate chip cookies are the most popular cookies in America today, but they didn't exist prior to 1930. For that matter, neither did Henry, so he was never deprived of his favorite cookie.

Legend has it that Ruth Wakefield, the first owner of the Toll House Inn in Whitman, Massachusetts is credited with creating the first chocolate chip cookie. She was making a batch of basic butter cookies, so the story goes, and wanted something a little different for her guests.

Ruth, being a clever lady, died up some chocolate and put the pieces in her cookies thus creating Toll House Cookies, an instant hit. The Nestle Company was so impressed with the cookies that they gave Ruth a lifetime supply of chocolate in exchange for printing her recipe on the chocolate package.

It wasn't until 1939 that Nestle started making semi-sweet chocolate morsels because everyone loved the cookies, but no one liked chopping up all that chocolate. I'm pretty sure that if those sweet little morsels didn't exist today, Henry would have to settle for butter cookies as his favorite. And by the way, Ruth Wakefield's original recipe is on the package of Nestle's Chocolate Chips.

One of his other cooler weather favorites is homemade donuts. Though I don't need the oven to make donuts, I'm not too keen on slaving over a skillet of hot oil during the hot days of summer either.

So to Henry's delight I'll probably make up a batch of donuts pretty soon. And much to my grandson' delight, that means I'll have donut holes on hand for them too.

It was a Mafner's idea of putting the hole in the donut in the first place. Donuts without holes were created in Holland in the sixteenth century and were called olykoek, which translates to "oil cake". The Pilgrims, who stopped off in Holland on their long sail to America, learned how to make the "oil cakes" and brought the recipe along with them.

Hanson Gregory of Rockport, Maine loved donuts but didn't like the soggy, greasy centers, so in 1847 he poked holes in the middle of his mother's donuts as she was getting ready to fry them. Not only did the hole prevent the soggy, greasy center, it also had the added bonus of more uniform frying.

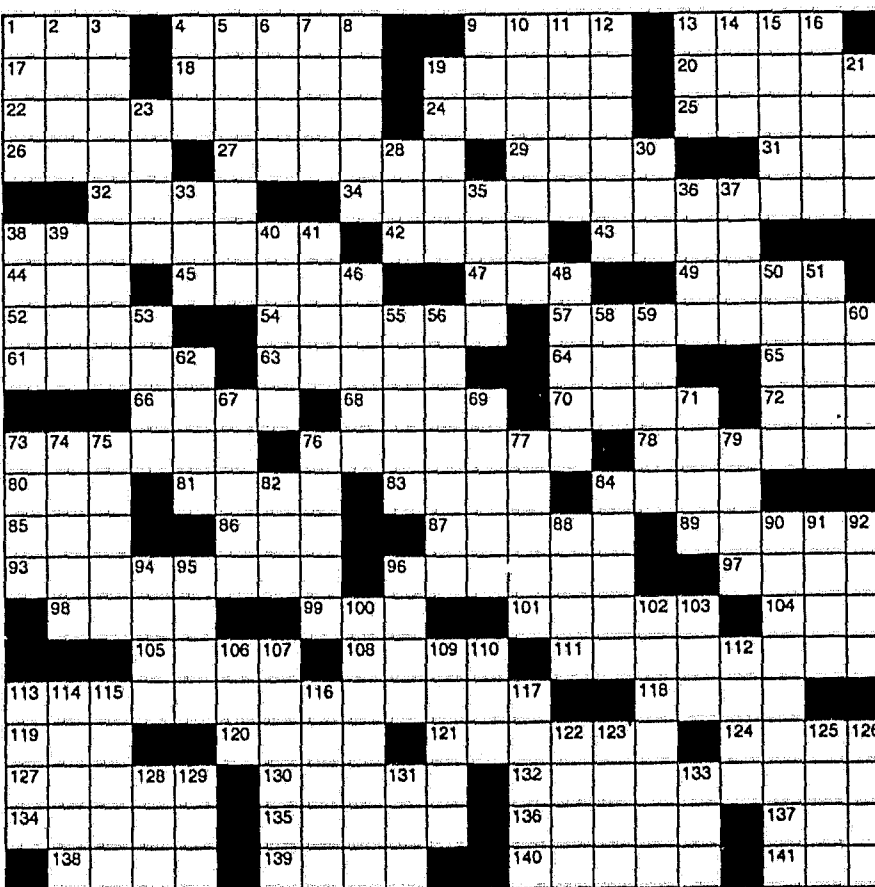

There is a bronze plaque in Rockport in Hanson Gregory's honor proving that only in America, fame can be achieved even by inventing nothing.

Well, I think that is enough food history for now, and the way I see it, it is now time for me to get into the kitchen and turn the oven on because right about now Henry is really turning up the heat for an apple pie.

woodpeckers are in abundance. The gray squirrel visits and there goes the neighborhood. The hummers are still here, but they should be gone next week. We will miss the little birds that warm our hearts all summer.

The "Bird of the Week" is the lone Mallard Duck that visits the cove every day.

Next week we will list the Raffle winners at the Ladies Aid Craft Fair.

I can't believe it is time to do the column again. It seems as if I hardly catch my breath when it is time to come up with something yet again.

I called Gerry Shim today and she sounds back to normal and says she was out digging potatoes. She said it was hard to believe, that after all the spring rains we got, that the land is so dry, and says the potatoes were very small this year because of it. We got a nice shower last night but the rain came down so hard most of it ran off instead of soaking in. But, as I said to someone, the ponds and rivers need water, too.

It is a circus around here when there is a storm because Princess is very frightened of them. So, I got woken up just about the first lightning that showed up here. Princess was digging on my arm and panting to be picked up, so I turned on the light, got up, pulled the curtains down, shut the bedroom door, and found the loudest CD I could get by that time of night and then went back to bed and tried to ignore her, as all the trainers say to do. She did finally get up on her chair and went back to sleep, but I slept rather fitfully for some time as those thunder claps seemed to keep coming and coming. I am not afraid of storms, thank goodness, but some of those claps last night were so loud it was nearly impossible not to get woken up by them. Once Princess went to sleep she managed to sleep through them because I think she has gotten very hard of hearing. She seems to be more afraid of the lightning; in fact, we have slow-start light bulbs around here and we try to put them on before it gets dark because those make her shake also. She thinks there is a storm coming.

Ralph and Lorene are spending tonight (Thursday) with her mother who is not feeling very well. The doctors seem to think that this is going to be an ongoing thing with her lungs but she finds some times are worse than others. It is very foggy out tonight so I suspect that the air is very heavy and hard to breathe for someone who has breathing problems already.

Ricky McLean spent most of the evening with me and he is a lot of fun. His mother works the evening shift and Calla takes care of him part of the evening and Lorene has him for the rest of the time until he can be picked up; but, where she had to be at her mother's, he stayed with me. I am glad that he is a very good child for a four-year-old as I am not up to much chasing after a child any more. He is right at the "Do you know what?" stage and the "Watch me" stage and so if you can say "No, what?" and give him your rapt attention you have it made. He does a pretty good somersault for a young person, too. He will talk a blue streak on the telephone, too, so I am thinking he is just the one to take the telemarketer and political calls. And it would serve them right.

My cousin, Carol Flint Hatch and her husband, Dan, have found them a place to rent in Freeport and were fortunate to have sold their house in New Hampshire almost as soon as it came on the market, so their prison ministry for incarcerated youth is getting off to a pretty good start here in Maine. It is nice to have them fairly close by and a good incentive for her brother and wife, Frank and Suzy Flint, to come up from Georgia once in a while so, hopefully, I can get to see them, also, while they are in Maine.

Well school has started again. Akayla Curtis,

Fred and Mandi's girl, started this year. She was excited to ride on the bus with her sister, Felecia, and cousin, William Curtis.

We had our annual gathering at Walter and Laurel's camp at Kingsbury this weekend. There were 41 people there. Some had their campers, some had tents and some stayed in the big camp. When we got back down to the other camp lot that belongs to my son, Kenneth Curtis of Kentucky, my sister-in-law, Velma Gallagher, of Garland, met us. I'm always happy to see her.

Marie Curtis took her folks to Lewiston Wednesday and her father had a doctor's appointment to have some tests run.

Brad Payne played golf at Bethel Inn.

Nancy Hutson of Portland visited Ann Payne and Brad over the weekend. Ann Payne and David Holt had dinner with their parents, Fay and Leonas Holt.

Julie Scott, daughter of Sidney and Cynthia Scott of West Paris, was married to Kenneth Curtis, son of Carl and Betty Curtis of Greenwood, at the Back Forty Campground belonging to Marcia Yates Huston and Shawn Huston. They had a nice archway well decorated. The bridesmaids were the bride's friend, Marie Rand, and the bride's daughter, Nichole. The best men were the groom's father, Carl Curtis, and a friend of the groom, Cliff Bogoston. The bride's father, Sidney Scott, and her son, Zac, gave her away. The flower girl was Alissa Vaughn. The ring bearer was William Curtis. Nancy Gravier performed the ceremony. Lillian Strait, aunt of the groom, took the pictures. Cynthia Scott, Gloria Hicks and Marie Rand took care of the food table and gifts. There were around 300 that signed the guest book. They went on their honeymoon up to Wyman-Stratton area to her parents' camp for the week.

Julie and Kenneth Curtis called on me for a while today. Raven Curtis was up to see me one day.

A special birthday celebration was held Sunday, Aug. 31, at our home. Patrice Dunn, who lives in California, is visiting her parents, my sister and husband, Evelyn and James Dunn, in Campton, N.H. It's usually several years between seeing Patrice, so family members were invited to come and visit. A birthday cake, finger rolls, chips and dip and other goodies were served. Patrice's birthday was Sept. 3. Those attending were James and Evelyn Dunn, Richard and Andrea Wing, Rick and Sally Wing, Kellie and Brad Record, Phelps and Joan Poland, Tim Poland, Andrew and Lissa Merrill, Sherri Poland, Dee and boys, Jake and Joe, Claribel Poland, Donna Kusheba and Kendell, Cleo Ryerson, Dennis and Debbie Poland and baby, Caden, Tommy Poland and guest of honor, Patrice. Everyone had a fun time visiting and catching up with news. She received several nice presents. Patrice is visiting with her mother and father in New Hampshire while they are getting ready to move to Norway in October and is helping her mother, who hasn't been feeling well. Patrice will return to California around Oct. 10.

What beautiful weather we have to enjoy this past few days. As I write this it is perfect at 74 degrees with the sun shining. No frost as yet, so the fall flowers are in bloom. Daughter, Margaret Lamb and friend, Mike Seaton, came Sunday for lunch. They brought me a dark red mum that should last well into frost time. They climbed up onto Berry's Ledge to view the whole town and surrounding areas. All people that grew up in West Paris try to do this at least once a year.

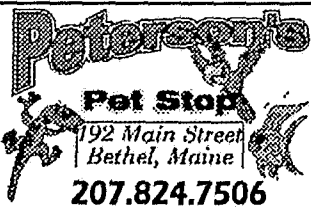

At the West Paris Universalist on Sunday, Sept. 14, the Rev. Joy Gasta will have for her sermon topic: "How School Fits into Our Religion." She was inspired by the community college being built in our neighborhood. Jim Burke is the organist. Church starts at 9 a.m. followed by a coffee hour. All are welcome.

Mary Lamb of North Pond visited with me one afternoon this week. She has started packing to return South in another week. She and Hayward live in Charleston, S.C. in the winter, for it is much warmer there than here in Maine.

The school buses are out early to gather in the children. The older ones near here are picked up at 6:40 a.m. What a long day. They return about 2:30 p.m.

CORIAN® sends granite back to the Stone Age

As rocks go, granite is just great. But a rock can't do what CORIAN can.

With CORIAN, satiny, sensuous curves can sweep seamlessly into matching multiple sinks. Inlays can dance across counter tops in intricate patterns. Edge treatments can add dash and dazzle...mixing a touch of metal, wood or ceramic with the easy-to-clean, stain-resistant durability of CORIAN.

Rout it. Carve it. Sandblast it. Even thermoform it into curves and waves.

CORIAN doesn't require regular professional maintenance like granite. And with a 10-year warranty from DuPont, you won't ever find yourself between a rock and a hard place.

Call today. We're just a stone's throw away. Let us show you the design freedom CORIAN can give you that granite can't.

West Paris

by
Bertha DeHaas

Our sincere condolences go out today to the family of John E.

Howe of South Paris and Bryant Pond. He will be greatly missed by a great many people, as he was a member of several organizations including Franklin Grange 124, Jackson-Silver Post American Legion 68 going on to be state commander of the American Legion. He also was a member of the Knights of Pythias and the Jefferson Lodge AF&AM. He played the saxophone in many bands, including Kirby Shaw's band, the Parisians and the Richard G. Felt Band. John was a rural mail carrier back when horses and then Fords were used to deliver the mail. He was a good father, brother, grandpa, husband, cousin and friend and we shall all miss him.

On Monday evening, Labor Day, Sept. 1, West Paris Grange 298 joined with Franklin Grange 124 for a joint installation of officers at the hall in Bryant Pond. The installation was done by Jeanne Burnham and her able staff of master, David Burnham; chaplain, Alma Douglas; marshals, Leanne Tulley and Yvonne Johnson; regalia bearer, David Burnham; emblem bearer, Jackie Richards and musician, Dot Canwell. With the exception of a few officers that were absent, the officers for the ensuing year are duly and properly installed. The installation was followed by a short business meeting and program on Labor Day and its origins. The evening started with a most delicious potluck supper. Thanks to Peggy and the "cooks" of the day. May you all have a successful Grange year coming up.

Tuesday, Sept. 2, saw the West Paris Senior Citizens at the home of Elsie Haynes on Route 26 for their monthly luncheon and meeting. Oh, these delicious meals out and oh those calories. Did not even eat supper Tuesday evening to make up for it all. How about you? After lunch we held our business meeting and decided to go on a "Leaf Peeper" special trip on Tuesday, Oct. 7. We will meet in the parking lot of the West Paris Baptist Church at 11 a.m., fill up our cars, go for lunch in Bridgton and go from there up through Lovell and Evans Notch, then come home through Gilead and down Route 26, stopping for ice cream on the way home. Our program director, Anna Swan, put on a program of music, "one liners" for a roll call, state of Maine map quiz, poetry by Fred Breame, Fred and Beryl Oja, Evelyn Chamberlain and Bertha DeHaas, quiz "neat as a pin" and some more music. Hope to see all our seniors again next month. Stay well.

The ladies group of the West Paris Baptist Church will meet on Tuesday, Sept. 16, at 7 p.m. at the home of Mary Standard, 127 Fields Hill Road, Sumner. This is our first meeting of the season and promises to be very special. Hope you can all come out.

The monthly public supper of the West Paris Grange will be held on Saturday, Sept. 20, from 5 to 6 p.m. at their hall, 4 Church Street. Prices are $5 for adults and $2.50 for children under 12. Come join us for a delicious supper. See you all next week.

Albany

by Dana & Sheila Dyke

Hello and greetings from Albany Township. What lovely weather we have had these past few days. Too bad it's getting cooler, but, that just means that fall is definitely on its way, and the leaves will be changing their color scheme from green to bright oranges, reds and yellows. At least the sun is shining.

We want to thank everyone who has been stopping by to give us words of encouragement. You have no idea how much they mean to us. We are narrowing our house hunting prospects and should be able to make a decision soon.

Last Sunday, we had a special treat at church. Sammy and Tabby Corriveau sang the two specials for the congregation. The little girls did a great job, especially with the first song, "Love isn't something until you give it away." Great message there. They then sang "Jesus Loves Me" and Tabby signed the song as they both sang. Awesome job. The pastor also gave a good, strong message and we really appreciate and thank him for all of his hard work.

East Stoneham

by Eleanor Nelson

Hi readers.

Albert Nelson Sr.

has been busy this past week delivering wood to people in the area. They say it's going to be a cold, snowy, hard winter this next year, so people are getting prepared. I like that motto - be prepared. It helps make life a little easier if you follow it.

The Labor Day weekend breakfast that the Stoneham Rescue put on was good and well attended. When we woke up we could smell the bacon cooking out of doors. Ed Barker has been doing this for many years and does a good job at it, and the pancakes and scrambled eggs are done just right, too. Everybody does good teamwork over there at the Rescue Barn.

As I said before, the Stoneham Church Bake and Thrift sales are all over for this year, so don't bring anything more to there. It is doubtful if there will be any more next year, but you can check with us next spring.

Congratulations go out to Mr. and Mrs. Everett Morrison on the birth of a baby girl on Aug. 1 at Stephens Memorial Hospital. Her name is Jasmine Skye Morrison.

Howard Berman from Arlington, Mass., was at the cottage at Lake Keewaydin this past weekend and attended the Rescue breakfast. He has been doing minor repairs at the cottage.

On Sept. 3, the North Waterford Senior Citizens met for lunch and meeting at the North Waterford Church vestry with about 14 members. Dinner was served by Viola and Arlene. Thanks, Viola and Arlene. Discussion was held about the next meeting and lunch. I will get more information and let you know more about it. I think it will be on Oct. 8, for a foliage trip and out to eat.

We were sorry to learn about the passing of Milton Barker of town. Our condolences to his family and friends.

Bob Millett is at home from the hospital now and gaining every day. Glad you are home, Bob.

Oxford County United Parish churches (North Waterford and Stoneham) will return to services at Stoneham at 10 a.m. beginning Sept. 7. See you there. (On Sunday, of course.)

Daughters of Union Veterans of the Civil War, Hannah F. Richardson, Tent 19, will meet at the K of P Hall in Stoneham at 7 p.m. on Sept. 24. All members please try and be there. It's an important meeting.

Andrew Dean has returned to Fort Bragg, N.C. after spending a few days with his parents, Lesley and Gary Dean, at West Stoneham.

Waterford

by Rockie Graham

Sorry to

miss last

column. I was busy

with my wedding. Many of you will have seen the write-up in last week's Citizen, the Sun Journal and numerous other papers. The only paper that didn't cover it was the Advertiser because the wedding occurred out of their district, even though the bride and groom live in their district. The wedding also made the news on channels 6 and 8. Fortunately, it died down after a day to be replaced by other subjects. It is still amazing to us that we got so much publicity for getting married. Guess we are just lucky.

In other news - The Older and Wiser 50-plus Conference put on by Oxford Hills Seniors Plus will be Oct. 15 from 8:30 a.m. to 3 p.m. at the Second Congregational Church in Norway. Sessions include: Cooking for 1 or 2, How to Talk to Your Doctor, Staying Mentally Sharp, Fraud, and How to Keep a Positive Attitude. There will also be a group walk, yoga, tai chi, and sit-down exercises. Sounds like a great conference and one not to be missed. For more information call 743-5933 x775.

School is back in session and Waterford Elementary students are selling wrapping paper and other holiday items. See the students nearest you for a full inventory. Also remember to drive carefully and stop for those school buses. They have the right of way when stopping to pick up or discharge students.

From the

Bethel Area Chamber of Commerce

All our members and friends are invited to our upcoming Business After Hours on Thursday, Sept. 25, at the Sunday River Brewing Co., from 5 to 7:30 p.m. Oxford Networks is sponsoring it and will have a display on their services using the latest technology, and they are assuring that the delicious food, beer and wine that the Brew Pub is known for will be readily available to all who attend. On Tuesday, the 23rd, from 6:30 to 8:30 p.m. in Telstar High School Lecture Hall, the chamber will be hosting an Informational Forum on the Land's For Maine's Future initiative. Representatives from that organization will have a Power Point presentation describing the projects that have been funded through this program in all corners of the state of Maine, and will be on hand to answer any questions that the audience may have. Coffee and refreshments will be available.

We are pleased to announce that we have a couple exciting new additions to the sixth annual Bethel Harvest Festival schedule. For the first time, the chamber will be adding an Apple Pie Contest to the event. Details on this may be found in a "Letter to the Editor."

We also are pleased to announce that Smokey the Bear will be joining us from noon to 2 p.m. that afternoon. A slight change in the entertainment lineup has occurred. Featured performers will be Doug Alford and friends, Nancy Rae and our own Don Murphy.

The chamber's monthly Community Networking Breakfast schedule for next Wednesday, Sept. 24, at the Bethel Inn & Country Club's South Dining Room, will feature updates from various businesses and organizations, as well as a presentation from representatives from Portland Natural Gas Transmission Systems. A $5 buffet breakfast will be available and an RSVP to 824-2282 is required by Tuesday, Sept. 23.

"Last of the Pequawkets"
As part of this year's Harvest Fest, the Bethel Historical Society will hold a signing for a new book about Mollycokett by author Pat Stewart, a Greenwood resident and society member. The signing will take place from 2 to 4 p.m. on Saturday, Sept. 20, in the Mason House exhibit hall on Broad Street.

You can't live in southwestern Maine without knowing something about Mollycokett, the "Last of the Pequawkets." She was born near the mouth of the Saco River around 1738 and died in Andover in 1816. She traveled the woodland trails and waterways of New England and Canada throughout her active life. She remains a local heroine. Several area businesses, the local chapters of Sweet Adelines and the DAR have appropriated her name. Every summer the town of Bethel holds a festival, complete with parade and a frog-jumping contest, called Mollycokett Day.

After Greenwood resident Pat Stewart retired and settled permanently in Maine, she became more and more interested in this remarkable woman. She resolved to find out as much as she could about Mollycokett with an eye to writing a book based on her story.

Research took her to the Odanak settlement, near Quebec, Old Town, Maine, local historical sites and other sources in Boston. The reference library and staff of the Bethel Historical Society and Regional History Center provided invaluable information and assistance. Now, after more than five years of work, Mollycokett has been published by Twin Lights Publishers of Rockport, Mass.

Stewart describes the book as a fictionalized reconstruction. She relates the known facts and stories surrounding Mollycokett, fills in gaps with what might have happened and imagines relationships between Mollycokett and her friends, family and other characters, both real and invented. The book includes maps and illustrations.

Mollycokett herself tells much of the story. She lies on her deathbed, cared for by Sarah Bragg, a fictitious niece of the Bragg family, who actually did take on Mollycokett's care at the end of her life. To make Sarah's job easier, Mollycokett decides to tell the girl the story of her life.

Pat Stewart is a graduate of Douglass College, Rutgers University and holds master's and doctoral degrees from Harvard University. She taught at the high school, college and graduate level and then began her career as a management development executive at large companies including Fidelity Investments and Thomas Cook Travel. After retiring she studied at the Museum of Fine Arts and co-authored a book on decorative painting, published in 1999 by Rockport Publishers. She has a studio in her home on Indian Pond in Greenwood, where she paints and writes. She is married to Henry Stewart, a retired lawyer, now an arbitrator and mediator. She has three grown children, Darnley, a lawyer; Tyler, owner of an independent bookstore; and Victoria, a playwright.

From the Middle Intervale Meeting House Society

The second annual Antiques Floorshow, sponsored by the Middle Intervale Meeting House Society, is returning to Bethel as part of the Chamber's Harvest Fest on Saturday, Sept. 20.

Kaja Veilleux of Thomaston Place Auction Gallery will conduct verbal appraisals at the Middle Intervale Meeting House, Intervale Road, Bethel. Private appraisals will be conducted from 10 a.m. to 12 p.m. by appointment, and a public floorshow appraisal event during which appraisals (first come, first serve) will be held from 1 to 3 p.m. The cost of appraisals will be $5 per item. General admission, without an appraisal, to the afternoon's floorshow is $3 per person.

Attendees are encouraged to bring items such as jewelry and silver, toys and banks, clocks and watches, sculpture and bronzes, paintings, unusual glass and china, antique rugs and needlepoint rugs and samplers. Small furniture items are also acceptable, but larger pieces are best handled by photos with dimensions.

For an appraisal appointment or more information, call 824-2908. Proceeds will benefit the Middle Intervale Meeting House, which is located on Intervale Road, 3 miles off Route 26 at Davis Park.

From the
Bethel Rotary Club

Recently in Rotary, Telstar students Matt Mills and Tom Scotti shared with us their experience at the World Affairs Seminar (WAS/Seminar) this past June. Our club sponsored Matt and Tom's registration fees.

According to the WAS Web site, the seminar is a unique educational program for high school students which provides a forum for future leaders to be introduced to some of the most perplexing global issues and problems. The purpose of the seminar is to bring about a better understanding of world problems while providing opportunity to discuss those issues with young people from all over the world. Emphasis is placed on promoting a better understanding of the causes of world conflict with the idea that if the causes are understood, world problems are more likely to be solved peacefully by our future leaders.

Tom and Matt described their setting as that of the University of Wisconsin-Whitewater that provided college campus facilities to stay at, recreate at, and host the seminar. They estimated that there were 600 international students of the 900 participants.

Their schedule consisted of listening to numerous lecturers that provided topics for small group discussion and inquiry issues which resulted in a group study position paper on important international issues.

Some of the speakers and their topics included the editor of Newsweek, Middle East negotiating and peacekeeping efforts, and Rio de Janeiro's internal turmoil.

Both Tom and Matt would recommend this experience to other students, and they learned more about how Americans are viewed by others and were educated on the culture of other international students.

Last week in Rotary, new member Diana Polli shared with us her Classification Talk. Diana moved to Bethel in 1975 and attended Telstar Regional High School. She moved with her dad and four other siblings from New York and soon became a family with a total of eight siblings. She is a self-described Army brat, as her dad was with the service for 20 years.

She began working at The Bethel Inn in 1982 and has worked there ever since. Her job at the inn started as a waitress and with the encouragement of Gretchen Davidson, who worked Group Sales, Diana took Adult Ed courses and soon found herself working in the Group Sales Department. In the beginning, Diana finalized all the details for servicing groups that were secured. Then, she handled not only the ski and golf groups, but also still maintained the servicing details for all groups.

In 1999/2000 upon the departure of Gretchen, Diana became the interim Group Sales director. She grew with the Group Sales Department, rising to assistant sales coordinator to sales coordinator, and now to Group Sales manager.

This time of year is the busy season for groups. Typically, Diana will have all group agendas prepared for staff meetings on Thursdays and then it goes from there. Her groups are anywhere from two to 200. There are two other persons that work in the department — an outside sales person and wedding coordinator.

She has found her work to be very rewarding. She's had the pleasure of meeting great people and going to great places. She's very content with the job and likes the inn, as she knows it well. Now she has the opportunity to give back to the community.

Personally, Diana has two boys — Chuck who is a mason and Adam who will look to further his education in English — and Diana says that life is never boring with her husband, Steve.

NHCTC-Berlin will again sponsor the AARP, Driver Safety Course (formerly known as 55 Alive). It will take place on their campus at 2020 Riverside Drive, Berlin, N.H. Oct. 13 and 15, Monday and Wednesday, 5 to 9 p.m. This is to accommodate those who wish to take the course but work days. The cost is $10. Those who bought a vehicle from Berlin City, Currier, or Pat's Auto will have their tuition reimbursed by that dealership.

The course is open to all but is especially designed to help older drivers to deal with age-related problems to continue driving safely.

In some cases it will allow the deduction of three penalty points. Many insurance companies give a discount such as ITT-Hartford, Geico, Met Auto, GE/Colonial, Penn, Casco, and Teachers Inc., and possibly others.

Register by contacting NHCTC at (603) 752-1113 or (800) 445-4525. Any questions contact the instructor, Tony Harp, at (603) 752-1664.

From the

Maine Veterans' Home

Maine Veterans' Home, in conjunction with the Western Maine Veterans Advisory Committee, is pleased to announce plans are made for the annual Commanders Dinner at the South Paris facility. The dinner will be held on Wednesday, Sept. 17, at 6 p.m.

This event is held annually, and the purpose of this affair is to welcome new commanders and auxiliary presidents to their positions, and to introduce them to the vast array of services and activities provided to the home by the various veterans' groups that makes up WMVAC.

Maine Veterans' Home, a 90-bed multi nursing level facility, is able to coordinate activities for both individual residents and groups of residents in the home as a result of the unending assistance of organizations such as these groups. Included in the list of available activities are such events as special buffet meals, holiday celebrations, veteran related holiday celebrations, supplying each resident with a birthday gift, and supplying a smorgasbord of gifts for each resident to choose gifts for their loved ones at Christmas time. There are also numerous trips and outings throughout the year.

Pat Young, administrator of the High Street facility states, "We are so very fortunate to have this group of volunteers working with our residents. It is always a pleasure to host this event as a small gesture of thanks for the never-ending support given to us. It is because of this group's dedication that we are able to provide the numerous activities to our residents."

From the

Oxford County Retired Teachers

The Oxford County Teachers Association will meet at the Bolsters Mills Methodist Church on Sept. 19. Social period starts at 10:30 a.m. and the business meeting at 11 a.m. Dinner is $6. The after-dinner speaker will be Cathy Planchart from Senior Plus. Bring cookies for a cookie-walk fundraiser.

New retirees welcome. Call 583-2524 for a dinner reservation.

From the

Oxford County Democrats

The Oxford County Democrats will meet on Thursday, Sept. 18, at the Buckfield Municipal Office building for a potluck supper at 5:30 p.m. and regular meeting at 6:30 p.m. Attendance by anyone interested in electing Democratic candidates is welcome. Those coming for supper are asked to bring a food item to share. Aymie Walsh, executive director of the Maine Democratic Party will be the speaker and will provide information on the caucus process and plans for the 2004 convention. Representatives from the various presidential campaigns have been invited to update the County Committee on activities taking place this fall. Congressman Michaud's office will be represented. Terry Hayes of Buckfield and Rep. Rosita Gagne-Friel have made arrangements for the meeting.

Recent activities of the Oxford County Democrats include the August meeting that was held on Thursday, Aug. 21, in Waterford, with Lynn Baker and the Waterford Democrats making meeting arrangements. Valerie Landry of Casinova was the speaker. The Legislative Special Session prevented Senator Bruce Bryant and Representatives John Patrick and Rosita Gagne-Friel from attending. Chairperson Cathy Newell gave their report and also presented greetings from Congressman Michaud who thanked the Oxford Democrats for their participation in his visits to the area this summer.

Senator Bruce Bryant and Representative John Patrick joined Maine's two Congressmen, Tom Allen and Mike Michaud, during their tour of the Rumford area on Aug. 27. The visit included the River Valley Technology Center, chaired by Senator Bryant with Rep. Patrick as a board member. Michaud singled out Bryant and Patrick for their forceful leadership in working with civic leaders and River Valley Growth Council staff in securing more than $1.6 million in grants for the Technology Center and for the Pyrolysis facility.

The Oxford County Democrats participated in the Buckfield Labor Day Celebration. Senator Bryant and Rep. Gagne-Friel marched in the parade, joined by local Democrat Terry Hayes, and Rep. Patrick drove the float while Lanette, Larissa and Logan Bryant tossed candy. The County Democrats booth, staffed by Cathy Newell, featured the Free Raffle and Straw Poll for 2004. The Buckfield straw poll showed good support for Senator Lieberman and Senator Kerry, with Vermont Governor Dean less popular than in similar polls at Mollycodd Day and Andover Old Home Days, where he tied with Kerry. Carol Moseley-Braun continues to be popular with the teen and pre-teen girls who participate.

Sports

Soccer

Defense and depth are the strong suits of this year's Rebel soccer team.

Coach Nate Buckman lost three of his most productive scorers to graduation. With no obvious top shooter to go to, he will rely on a whole-team strategy.

"We have a lot of solid players who are good athletes," said Buckman. "We'll just keep putting fresh bodies out there, and wear (the opposition) down. And we'll try to take advantage of mistakes."

He also wants to use a more aggressive style of play this season.

The defense remains strong, with most of those players returning. New in goal this year is Terry Collins, a former fullback.

The junior made a key save Friday in his first regular season game, against Wiscasset. It preserved a 1-0 lead late in the game, and helped earn the Rebels their first win.

The rest of the lineup:

Seniors: Jake Largess (captain, playing defensive positions); Kurt Wight (midfielder/goalie); Peter Poor (fullback); Eliot Poirier (forward); Adam Largess (fullback); Mike Hoy (midfielder); Mark Hodgkin (fullback); Casey Fleet (midfielder); Alex Best (fullback); Simon Dumont (forward/midfielder); and Travis Brooks (midfielder/fullback);

Juniors: Kevin Zinchuk (midfielder/fullback); August Reiss (midfielder/fullback); Ross Parker (forward/fullback); and Matt Mills (midfielder);

Sophomores: Blake Conrad (midfielder); Nathan Walker (fullback); and Sean Caddigan

(midfielder);

Freshman: Kevin Gallagher (goalie).

The team gained former golf team members Dumont, Brooks and Caddigan this year.

Buckman has a unique weapon in Dumont, a free-style skier and gymnast who has mastered an unusual maneuver for inbounding the ball from the sidelines.

To generate extra momentum, Dumont does a forward flip before releasing the ball. A well-executed toss Friday against Wiscasset resulted in the game's only goal. Dumont also set up a goal in the pre-season against Berlin.

Last year, Buckman said, an opposing Freeport player used the unusual toss. "I hated it," said Buckman. "I wanted it outlawed."

But now that someone on his team can do it, Buckman admits, he's changed his opinion.

The Rebels will be aiming to match, or improve on, last year's 9-4-2 record.

Golf

The loss of Dumont, Brooks and Caddigan to the soccer team is a blow for coach Jim Lunney, who said the trio were among his top five golfers last season.

But two veteran sophomores and a crop of new players should mean a bright future, he said.

Brady Chapman and Errol Andrews are expected to be the one and two players this season, followed by senior Ben Shimamura. Junior Frank Emerson also returns, probably in the fourth spot.

Newcomers include sophomore Shawn Crockett and freshmen Braden Crockett-Rice, Zach Meisner and Josh McDonnell.

It will be a building year, said Lunney. "The freshmen will gain experience," he said.

Cross-Country

It's boys only so far this season on coach Gary Wight's cross-country squad. Several veteran runners for the girls' team graduated, and no one has come out.

Despite the lack of girls, Wight said he hopes a core group of runners now in the middle school will promise a brighter future.

The boys will field a larger-than-usual team, with 11 runners. Ability-wise, "they're pretty bunched together," said Wight.

The team includes senior Dustine Angevine, juniors Andrew Farrington, Andy Aloisio, Ryan Savage, Josh Longway, Clay Smith, and Yves Baribeau; and sophomores Ryan Cross and Jason McAvoy.

The team lost top runners Fred Bailey and John Reuter to graduation, but Wight hopes the depth will keep them strong competitors.

The Rebels move up to Class C this year after being in D for many seasons. But the regular schedule remains essentially the same, with meets against MVC schools. The difference will come in the post-season competition.

Another change this year is in the home course at Telstar. The trail had to be moved because of construction of a new track at the school.

The result is a slightly longer and more difficult course that includes a larger hill, Wight said.

JOHN E. HOWE
John E. Howe, 97 of South Paris and Bryant Pond, died Wednesday, Sept. 3, 2003 at Market Square Health Care Center.

He was born in South Woodstock on April 8, 1906, a son of John F. and Fannie E. Brooks Howe. He attended local schools and graduated from Woodstock High School in 1924. He worked as a rural mail carrier in Bryant Pond for many years. He had also served as a selectman, a school board member and was also a Per Diem Deputy.

Mr. Howe served at the Portland Harbor during WWII with the Coastal Patrol on submarine watch. During that time is when he also learned to fly. He enlisted in the US Navy in 1943.

He was a former member of the Bryant Pond Baptist Church, a member of the Bryant Pond Universalist Church, Jackson-Silver American Legion Post 68 and served as state commander of the American Legion in 1970-1971, Jefferson Lodge 100 AF&AM, the Franklin Grange 124, and a former member of the Knights of Pythias. He played the saxophone in several bands for over 70 years. These bands included the McDaniels Band, Merrills Melody Men, Nate Noble Band, Lon Wight and the Old Timers, Ken Goodwin, Kirby Shaw, The Parisians, Lord's Orchestra and most recently, the Richard Felt Band.

He was a member of the Boy Scouts and served as scoutmaster in Bryant Pond. He was an avid outdoorsman and enjoyed hunting and fishing and also enjoyed guiding people. He tied flies, repaired and built boats and repaired motors.

He restored antique cars and also had made a snowmobile out of an old truck and used it during stormy days to deliver the mail. He flew a 1929 American Eagle Bi-Plane.

He married Edna Boomer on June 4, 1965.

He is survived by his wife of Biddeford; a daughter, Olive Risko of Bryant Pond; three sons, John F. "Bill" and his wife Wynona, Edwin and his wife Elouise, and C. Stephen and his wife Joyce, all of Bryant Pond; a stepson, Jay Boomer of Wells; a stepdaughter, Jean Emerson of Saco; a sister, Margaret Schnur of Colo, Iowa; 10 grandchildren, several great-grandchildren, and several nieces and nephews. He was predeceased by his first wife, Rena Farrington whom he married in 1926. She died in 1963. He was also predeceased by two brothers, Edwin and Delphon.

A memorial service was held Tuesday, Sept. 9, at the Jackson-Silver Post 68 American Legion Hall in Locke Mills with Joe Perham officiating. Burial followed at the Lakeside Cemetery in Bryant Pond. If desired, donations can be made to the Franklin Grange of Bryant Pond or to the Jackson-Silver American Legion of Locke Mills.

MARILYN K. FUNK

Marilyn K. Funk, 35, of Queensbury and formerly of Bethel, passed away on Sunday, Sept. 7, 2003 in Queensbury.

Born on June 7, 1968, in St. Petersburg, Fla., she was the daughter of Erwin D. and Virginia (Perkins) Funk of Queensbury.

A graduate of Queensbury High School, she continued her education first at ACC, then continued on to receive her bachelor's degree from the University of Maine, majoring in secondary education and specializing in chemistry and physics. She currently was working toward achieving her master's degree.

She worked as a teaching assistant at the University of Maine, teaching physics to undergraduates. More recently she was employed as an administrator at Summit Achievement in New Hampshire.

She was active in the Maine Outward Bound Group. As a certified lifeguard she spent many summers working at local recreational departments and beaches throughout the community.

Her greatest love was spending time with her son, Noah; others included photography, rock climbing, skiing, and swimming. Besides her parents, survivors include her beloved son, Noah Funk Davis of Queensbury; a brother, Brian Funk and his wife Lori of Palm City, Fla.; four nieces and nephews; paternal grandmother, Gladys Funk of Seminole, Fla.; two uncles, Lloyd Funk and wife Dottie of Anderson, S.C. and Gene Funk and his wife Lana of Braydenton, Fla.

Funeral services will be conducted at a time to be announced Friday, Sept. 12, at Singleton-Healy Funeral Home, 407 Bay Road, Queensbury. Family and friends may call from 4 to 7 p.m. Thursday, Sept. 11, at the funeral home.

BRADLEY HARRINGTON

Bradley G. Harrington, age 41, of Newry, died unexpectedly Thursday, Sept. 4, 2003 at his residence.

He was born in Rumford on Oct. 1, 1961, a son of Gerald H. and Linda J. Richardson Harrington. He attended Bethel schools and graduated from Telstar High School in 1979.

Bradley was an avid outdoorsman. He enjoyed moose, deer and bird hunting, fishing and 4-wheeling. He also liked reading, especially outdoor magazines, puzzles and spending time with his family, his nieces and nephews.

Bradley was known as a positive person in all aspects and had a great sense of humor, which will be missed by all.

He is survived by his brother, Ralph of Newry; his sister, Peggy Fournier of Windham; three nieces, Carrie Harrington, Mary Harrington and Lindsay Fournier; and two nephews, Ramsay Harrington and Jarrod Fournier.

A funeral service was held at Sunday, Sept. 7, with the Rev. Earl Bell officiating. Burial will be at the Irish Neighborhood Cemetery at a later date. If desired, donations can be made to the Maine Muscular Dystrophy Association, 222 Auburn Street, Portland, ME 04103.

Card of Thanks

Thank you all for your support, thoughtfulness, kind words, and prayers. We are so thankful that we live in such a caring community. Special thanks to Cliff Ray at Andrews Funeral Home for all his guidance during this difficult time. Thank you to Silver Creations for all the beautiful arrangements; Mike would have loved all the sunflowers and irises. We greatly appreciated all the cards, flowers, casseroles, and donations to the Spurrink Foundation. A special thanks to all the children and teenagers that have offered support, care, and love to my girls. They will grow stronger each day and your friendships are a vital part of this process. My girls and I will slowly, but steadily move forward. This process has been made more tolerable by the care and support displayed by our family, friends, teachers, coaches, and the community at large. Thank you all.

Respectfully,
Susan Forkus and Girls

Woodstock Special Town Meeting Warrant

To: Jeffrey Campbell, a resident of the Town of Woodstock in the County of Oxford and the State of Maine, Greetings:

In the name of the State of Maine, you are hereby required to notify and warn the inhabitants of the Town of Woodstock, Maine, qualified to vote in town affairs, to assemble at the Woodstock Town Office conference room on Tuesday, the 16th day of September, 2003 AD at 6:30 P.M. to vote on the following articles to wit:

Article 1: To choose a moderator to preside at said meeting

Article 2: Shall the town vote to rescind the vote taken on Article 31 (see below) at the Annual Town Meeting in March 2003 to sell by sealed bid, the old fire station on Railroad Street, and to then allow the building to be used as a town owned Recreation and Community Activities Center.

From Annual Town Meeting Minutes-

Article 31: Shall the town vote to sell the former fire station building and land and use the proceeds as additional money for the expansion of the new fire station. This article was approved as presented with no opposition or discussion, but the Selectmen did suggest that a minimum starting bid price should be $20,000

*(No bids were actually received)

Article 3: Shall the town vote to accept the gift of $20,000 to be used to offset the need in the New Fire Station addition account and allow the town to keep the old fire station for a Recreation and Community Activities Center

Countersigned with our hands at Woodstock, Maine this 9th day of September 2003

A Majority of the Board of Selectmen of Woodstock, Maine

Percy R. Monk, Jr., Chairman, Stephen P. Bies, Leon Poland

Some Background:

The plan to sell the former fire station was two-fold, 1.) to raise funds to go toward the addition to the new fire station and 2.) to put an unused building back into use. Since Town Meeting, the town has received a gift to be used for youth and recreation needs and with that gift the idea to turn the old fire station into a Recreation and Community Center has surfaced. This idea is being supported by the Recreation Department, the Sports Boosters, the Selectmen and other citizens. If this is approved, the town will retain ownership of the old fire station and the Recreation Department, Sports Boosters, and Selectmen will oversee its improvements, operation and usage.

The reason for this meeting tonight is to ask for the town's permission to change the vote taken at the 2003 Town Meeting held in March. The Town voted to sell the old fire station on Railroad Street with the intention of realizing $20,000 from the sale that would go toward the cost of adding on to the new fire station. The building was put out to bid during May of this year and during that time, no bids were received. Interest was expressed in the building; however, as of this time, there has been no further movement. Recently the town has been given a gift of $20,000 to be used for this purpose. The gift will allow the town to maintain ownership of the old fire station for a Recreation and Community Activities Center and to have the needed funds to contribute to the new fire station addition.

The citizens that expressed the interest did purchase the lot next to the old fire station, and will be willing to lease the use of it, or sell it to, the Recreation Committee as the lot has a well and septic system which will make the old fire station usable as a Recreation and Community Activities Center.

It is the hope of the giver of the gift that other donations will be given, as he will match some of those gifts. This would make the acquisition of the adjoining lot and any needed repairs and renovations possible.

As you can begin to imagine, there are many good and positive results that can come from this endeavor.
